

FORENSIC SCIENCE

Biological Safety in the Laboratory

R2 000.00

This DVD explores the biological safety program and explains its role in the learning environment.

DVD / 2009 / 16 min / HSFOR001

Introduction to Investigations

R2 000.00

This program introduces the investigative process. It shows how to interview witnesses, examine a crime scene, gather and maintain evidence, write reports, and conduct follow-up activities. The DVD also looks at techniques used for accident prevention. DVD / 2002 / 26 min / HSFOR002

Justice Through Science: Forensic Document Lab

R2 000.00

This program visits the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement Document Laboratory, which is the only federal crime lab in the United States that specializes in the forensic examination of travel and identity documents.

DVD / 2002 / 27 min / HSFOR003

Technology in Society: Law and Order

R2 000.00

This program examines the different avenues of law enforcement that have benefited from recent technological advances. It looks at such developments as heartbeat detection techniques and shoeprint databases, explores the ways in which police officers in India have benefited from textile materials that help control temperature and moisture, and explains how Italian police officers use a virtual police station to tackle cybercrime. DVD / 2011 / 23 min / HSFOR004

THE CRIME SCENE

Crime Scene Investigation

R2 000.00

Showing an actual murder scene, this program teaches officers how to protect the integrity of a crime scene and presents techniques for collecting evidence.

DVD / 2000 / 20 min / HSFOR005

Crime Scene Preservation for Street Cops

R2 000.00

In this DVD, former Illinois State Police homicide investigator D. Wayne Heil teaches street officers the critical first steps to undertake when approaching a major crime scene. Heil also details the primary areas of concern for officers charged with protecting crime scenes. The DVD features explicit crime scene videos and photographs and shows how computer technology has changed the way in which police artists create suspect sketches.

DVD / 1999 / 30 min / HSFOR006

Homicide Crime Scene Preservation and Handling

R2 000.00

This program shows field officers how to enter and properly contain a homicide crime scene.

DVD / 1997 / 18 min / HSFOR007

Things Your Training Officer Never Told You: Homicide — Managing a Crime Scene

R2 000.00

This DVD teaches law enforcement officers how to preserve and protect evidence at a homicide crime scene.

DVD / 16 min / HSFOR008

PRICES EXCLUDE VAT

AFRICAN EDUCATIONAL DISTRIBUTORS

From: PAULA VAN RENSBURG Tel: 011 616 8415 Fax: 011 615 5384 paulavr@xsinet.co.za

INVESTIGATIONS

Bloodstain Pattern Analysis in Crimes of Violence 1

R2 000.00

Emphasizing the importance of bloodstain pattern analysis to criminal investigations, this program looks at techniques used to collect and process blood pattern evidence and discusses the best use of these techniques in crime scenes and investigations. DVD / 2003 / 25 min / HSFOR009

Bloodstain Pattern Analysis in Crimes of Violence 2

R2 000.00

This DVD explains techniques that use bloodstain evidence to determine the chain of events and the positions of persons involved in crime scenes. It considers the use of stringing to locate points of origin and discusses the relationship between points of convergence and points of origin in bloodstain patterns. DVD / 2003 / 26 min / HSFOR010

Fingerprints and Footprints

R2 000.00

In this program, forensics expert Don Ostermeyer details the processes of locating and preserving fingerprint and footprint evidence. DVD / 1995 / 29 min / HSFOR011

Gunshot Wounds

In this set, forensics expert Vincent DiMaio discusses gunshot wounds. Part 1 shows how to properly examine gunshot wounds. Part 2 explores the role of gunshot wound analysis in violent death investigations.

Part No. 1

DVD / 1992 / 25 min / HSFOR012

R2 000.00

Part No. 2

DVD / 1992 / 25 min / HSFOR013

R2 000.00

Interview and Interrogation: Effective Interview Techniques

R2 000.00

Emphasizing the importance of listening and asking follow-up questions, this program explores the interviewing process and presents techniques that aid in the development of skills necessary for conducting effective interviews.

DVD / 2005 / 23 min / HSFOR014

Physical Evidence

R2 000.00

This DVD demonstrates procedures for gathering, identifying, and packaging physical evidence. It also shows how to analyze fingerprints, objects, bodily fluids, and toolmarks. DVD / 1979 / 36 min / HSFOR015

The Sexual Assault Examination: Essential Forensic Techniques

R2 000.00

This DVD offers a reenactment of a sexual assault crime and teaches the methodology used by forensic nurse examiners to collect forensic evidence. The program covers such topics as the role of the sexual assault team members, the interview process, the medico-legal examination, the uses of colposcopic photography and toluidine dye, and documentation.

DVD / 2000 / 60 min / HSFOR016

PRICES EXCLUDE VAT

AFRICAN EDUCATIONAL DISTRIBUTORS

From: PAULA VAN RENSBURG Tel: 011 616 8415 Fax: 011 615 5384 paulavr@xsinet.co.za

PROFESSIONAL ISSUES

Critical Thinking: Analyzing Problems and Decisions

R2 000.00

This program uses illustrative vignettes and group discussions to explore the problem solving process. It introduces a problem solving methodology of accepting the problem, defining the problem, considering alternatives, devising solutions and plans of action, and evaluating the efficacy of solutions. The DVD features critical thinking expert and Thinking Critically author John Chaffee.

DVD / 2008 / 29 min / HSFOR017

Cross-Cultural Communication: How Culture Affects Communication

R2 000.00

This DVD examines issues in cross-cultural communication. It discusses such factors as public behavior, taboos, power, stereotyping and prejudice, and high-context versus low-context cultures. The program includes illustrative vignettes and group discussions.

DVD / 2005 / 20 min / HSFOR018

How to Read and Understand a Research Study

R2 000.00

This program teaches how to understand research studies and evaluate the quality of information presented. It outlines the structure of a scientific paper, including abstract, introduction, methods, results, discussion, acknowledgements, and literature cited; differentiates among such research method types as observational studies, true experiments, and quasi-experiments; and shows how to evaluate the quality of a study design.

DVD / 2008 / 24 min / HSFOR019

Introduction to Critical Thinking

R2 000.00

Featuring John Chaffee, author of Thinking Critically, and offering illustrative vignettes and group discussions, this program shows how to become a critical thinker. It outlines the qualities of critical thinkers, including self-awareness, curiosity, open-mindedness, creativity, and insightfulness; looks at active and independent thinking; and emphasizes the importance of a solid knowledge base and quality communication skills.

DVD / 2008 / 25 min / HSFOR020

Listening

R2 000.00

This program examines different types of listening and looks at the elements of the listening process. The DVD also considers barriers to effective listening and offers vignettes that demonstrate effective and ineffective listening skills.

DVD / 2008 / 26 min / HSFOR021

Nonverbal Communication: Body Language, Gesture, and Proxemics

R2 000.00

This DVD explores bodily communication, proxemic communication, and tactile communication. It considers the communicative functions of each and explores the role that each form plays in interpersonal interactions. The DVD features commentary from experts in business, management, jury selection, dating, psychology, and nursing.

DVD / 2010 / 28 min / HSFOR022

Nonverbal Communication: Vocal Cues and Facial Expressions

R2 000.00

This DVD explores vocal cues, facial expressions, and eye behaviors. It discusses Ekman's seven categories of communicative meaning in facial expressions, facial deception, and eye behaviors. The DVD includes illustrative vignettes and offers commentary from experts in such areas as law enforcement, jury selection, nursing, business, management, and psychology.

DVD / 2010 / 30 min / HSFOR023

Professional Ethics in Law Enforcement

R2 000.00

This DVD provides a working definition for personal and professional ethics in law enforcement. It emphasizes the importance of values, morality, integrity, and respect to the proper provision of law enforcement responsibilities.

DVD / 1998 / 41 min / HSFOR024

PRICES EXCLUDE VAT

AFRICAN EDUCATIONAL DISTRIBUTORS

From: PAULA VAN RENSBURG Tel: 011 616 8415 Fax: 011 615 5384 paulavr@xsinet.co.za

Public Safety, Law, and SecurityR2 000.00

This DVD profiles a patrol officer, a firefighter, a paramedic, a forensic specialist, a paralegal, a legal assistant, a private security specialist, and a corrections officer. It covers required education, necessary skills and traits, typical job responsibilities, and career paths and offers tips for achieving success in the public safety, law, and security fields.

DVD / 2009 / 25 min / HSFOR025

Research Design: The ExperimentR2 000.00

This DVD introduces and defines experiments; explains how experiments are used in research; and outlines the steps of experimental design, from conceiving an inquiry to reporting the findings. It defines such terms as hypothesis, validity, experimental and control groups, generalizability, sample selection and division, random assignment, and blind studies. The DVD also addresses ethical issues in experimental design. DVD / 2008 / 27 min / HSFOR026

Tactical Thinking: Mind Over BodyR2 000.00

This DVD discusses tactical thinking, presents decision making processes to use when facing a threat, and considers natural physiological and mental responses to stressful situations. DVD / 2005 / 30 min / HSFOR027

Ten Greatest Dangers for PoliceR2 000.00

This program explores the ten greatest dangers facing police officers. It offers incident reenactments, traces the history of police work, and emphasizes the importance of remaining aware of one's surroundings. DVD / 2000 / 17 min / HSFOR028

Women in PolicingR2 000.00

Profiling women who work in law enforcement, this program features women police officers speaking conversationally about their job responsibilities and explaining why they enjoy their profession. DVD / 1995 / 15 min / HSFOR029

The Criminal Mind: Fraud — Working the ConR2 000.00

In this program, felons convicted of such fraud-related crimes as passing bad checks and creating false identities discuss their crimes. They also consider the techniques they used to evade police officers. DVD / / 16 min / HSFOR030

Criminal Profiling: Part 2R2 000.00

Featuring such experts as Robert Ressler, Gregg McCrary, Tory Caeti, and Ronald M. Holmes, this DVD discusses criminal profiling. It uses the case of Ted Bundy to discuss offender, victim, and geographic profiles and offers insights into crime scene and psychological profiles. DVD / 2002 / 28 min / HSFOR031

The Psychology of Criminal BehaviorR2 000.00

This DVD examines criminal behavior and explores societal views on crime. It addresses biological theories of criminal behavior; looks at environmental and sociological factors that can lead to crime; and discusses such psychological considerations as maladjustment, developmental trauma, and psychosis. DVD / 2001 / 25 min / HSFOR032

PRICES EXCLUDE VATAFRICAN EDUCATIONAL DISTRIBUTORS

From: PAULA VAN RENSBURG Tel: 011 616 8415 Fax: 011 615 5384 paulavr@xsinet.co.za